

Nicholl Fuel Oils Rebated Red Diesel Use Declaration

The UK government's announcement of changes to the rules on rebated diesel usage has been a source of confusion and concern across NI businesses. This declaration is to help us provide you with the correct advice on your ability to use rebated diesel.

At budget 2021, the government announced changes to rebated red diesel use entitlement (HODA Schedule 1 Entitlement) that will remove tax relief for rebated red diesel for several sectors. From 1st April 2022, Nicholl Fuel Oils will only be able to supply rebated red diesel to the following sectors:

- Agriculture, forestry, horticulture and fish farming
- Heating
- Power generation
- Horticulture Grass Cutting
- Travelling funfairs and circuses
- Marine
- Rail
- Amateur sports clubs, including golf courses

This will require industries that are not listed above to use fuel that's taxed at the standard rate for white diesel. Red diesel use entitlement is changing to encourage businesses to use alternative fuels to reduce their emissions and to help the UK achieve its net-zero targets.

The Government has provided the following guidance for red diesel users to help prepare for the change in tax – but our team of experts are available to assist you.

Please can you review the options below and confirm by selecting the option that your rebated red diesel use falls in and return this form to us at info@weboil.co.uk

1. Heating

Non-Commercial or Domestic

Rebated Gas Oil fuel can be used for heating premises being used for non-commercial purposes, including, for example, domestic homes, places of worship, NHS hospitals and townhalls.

- Non-commercial purposes mean where the activities carried out at the premises are not concerned with making profit. This includes, for example at premises being used to provide a public service or for charitable fundraising.

Commercial

- Where premises are being used for the purpose of making a profit, for example a school or hospital that charges fees, the fuel would be considered as being used for commercial purposes and you could not use rebated fuel for this.

CASC

- A Community Amateur Sports Club registered with HMRC where premises are being used for the purpose of the club and the Rebated Gas oil is being used for heating.

2. Power Generation

Non-Commercial or Domestic

- Rebated Gas Oil fuel can be used for power generation for Domestic homes and other premises being used for non-commercial purposes. This includes those not connected to the electricity grid and those that use back-up generators to ensure continuous power supply.
- Non-commercial purposes mean where the activities carried out at the premises are not concerned with making profit. This includes, for example at premises being used to provide a public service or for charitable fundraising.

Commercial

- Where premises are being used for the purpose of making a profit, for example a school or hospital that charges fees, the fuel would be considered as being used for commercial purposes and you could not use rebated fuel for this.
